My dear Bradburn:

Your note of yesterday, requesting letters of introduction to Anti-Slavery friends in England, has just come. As you intimate that you may leave to-morrow, and Francis Jackson informs me that he has a bundle for you, you see I have scarcely a moment to comply with your request. But George Thompson will be sufficient to obtain for you an introduction to a host of noble men and women across the Atlantic. How glad, how very glad I am, that Lucretia Mott and her husband are going to the Convention! And how sorry, how very sorry I am, that I cannot go with them and with you! My dear Bradburn, it is not probable that I shall arrive in season to be at the opening of the Convention; but, I beseech you, fail not to have women recognized as equal beings in it. Interchange thoughts with dear Thompson about it. I know he will go for humanity, irrespective of sex.

God speed you!

Your friend,

To George Bradburn.

Wm. Lloyd Garrison.

Bradburn's letter preserved.
